

ARTH 708: Painting the Wine-Dark Sea: Mural Traditions in Bronze Age Greece

Prof. Egan, Th 12:30-3pm

This course explores the tradition of wall painting in Bronze Age Greece, ca. 3000-1100 BCE. Discussions will investigate murals in their archaeological and social contexts and consider larger questions of iconographic choice and transmission, tools and technology, color and pigments, workshops and schools, and the issues surrounding modern restorations and reconstructions.
